RICHARD A. NAGAREDA
1963–2010

Richard A. Nagareda, the David Daniels Allen Distinguished Chair in Law and Director of the Cecil D. Branstetter Litigation and Dispute Resolution Program at Vanderbilt University Law School, passed away on October 8, 2010, at age 47.

Professor Nagareda was a leading civil litigation scholar, whose work focused on class actions and aggregate litigation. He authored several prominent books and numerous influential articles on these topics. In addition to being a respected scholar, Professor Nagareda was an esteemed teacher who held the three-year Tarkington Chair for Teaching Excellence from 2006 to 2009 and was recognized three times by his students with the Hall-Hartman Award for Excellence in Teaching.

Professor Nagareda also served as an Associate Reporter for the American Law Institute's Principles of the Law of Aggregate Litigation, completed in 2010, which was a centerpiece for the papers in this symposium. Professor Nagareda was an active participant in the symposium and moderated one of the panels.

In recognition of his life and his contribution to this symposium, the Law Review dedicates this Issue to his memory.
