

PRESENTED BY THE GEORGE WASHINGTON LAW REVIEW
and Professor Cynthia Lee

ADDRESSING THE CRISIS IN POLICING TODAY

keynote

PAUL BUTLER

RACE, MASCULINITY, and POLICE USE OF FORCE IN AMERICA

THURSDAY OCTOBER 22

1:00-1:30 WELCOME REMARKS

1:30-2:45 ENCOUNTERING THE POLICE

Mary Cheh (M), George Washington University Law School
Mary Fan, University of Washington School of Law
David Harris, University of Pittsburgh School of Law
Kristin Henning, Georgetown Law Center
Jordan Blair Woods, University of Arkansas School of Law

3:00-4:15 RACIAL AND GENDER HIERARCHIES IN POLICING

Donald Braman (M), George Washington University Law School
Seth Stoughton, University of South Carolina School of Law
Christy Lopez, Georgetown Law Center
Eric Miller, Loyola Law School, Los Angeles
Kami Chavis, Wake Forest University School of Law

FRIDAY OCTOBER 23

1:00-2:00 KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Paul Butler, Georgetown Law Center
Author of Chokehold: Policing Black Men

2:15-3:30 RACE, CLASS, POLICING, AND THE CONSTITUTION

Roger Fairfax (M), George Washington University Law School
Josephine Ross, Howard University School of Law
Frank Rudy Cooper, University of Nevada, Las Vegas School of Law
Julian Cook, University of Georgia School of Law
Justin Hansford, Howard University School of Law

3:45-5:00 THE PATH FORWARD

Kate Weisburd (M), George Washington University Law School
Stephen Rushin, Loyola Law School, Chicago
Cynthia Lee, George Washington University Law School
Monica Bell, Yale Law School

REGISTER HERE | QUESTIONS? GWLRRPROJECTS@LAW.GWU.EDU